POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Rushing down the home stretch, with adjournment tentatively slated for early in June, the 1941 State Legislature is grinding out new laws with greatly accelerated speed and energy, but is still many laps behind schedule.

Most of the major issues of the session are still awaiting final action, including numerous red-hot labor bills, the program of the Economy Bloc to slash state taxes and the bitterly contested legislative and congressional reapportionment acts.

The lawmakers, confronted with "payless-paydays," due to the fact that their salary fund has been exhausted, are burning the midnight oil in a belated drive to clear their files of hundreds of bills which have been passed out of committee but must still be acted upon by one or both of the houses. In the Assembly, particularly, the calendar is stacked high with proposed legislation—much of which will involve prolonged and volcanic debate.

Re-introduced in revised form, so that the tax cuts would not become effective until the state deficit had been wiped out, the tax-reduction bill, designed to save California taxpayers more than $25,000,000 during the coming biennium, promises to bring a battle royal.

The tax-slash bill, which has sixteen assemblymen as co-authors, including Speaker Gordon Garland, would reduce the state sales tax from 3 per cent to 2½ per cent and would make 15 per cent reductions in the motor transportation tax, bank and corporation franchise tax, personal income tax and liquor and beverage tax. The cuts would be effective for two years, with the probability that the Legislature would continue the reductions for another two years at its 1943 session if revenue conditions at that time permitted continuance.

Passed by the Assembly by a vote of 50 to 20, but still at issue, due to the threat of a gubernatorial veto, the Senate bill banning the secondary boycott is almost certain to provide further fireworks before the session ends. If vetoed, sponsors of the bill will make a last-ditch stand to override the veto. If signed, labor opponents of the bill will invoke the referendum against it.

Still smoldering also is the much-amended, oft-defeated Garrison Revenue Bond Act, which public ownership enthusiasts are trying to revive despite its rejection by vote of the people in 1938.

And when the budget bill is finally gotten out of the way, special appropriation bills totaling millions of dollars will be on the docket for action. It looks like a hectic windup!

Kenneth Leverton, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Leverton, who has been quite ill, suffering from an infected throat, is reported as improved this morning, the fever is lowered and cough reduced.

Future Farmers Will Present Next Kiwanis Program

"The Experiences of the Donner Party" were recounted Tuesday by the Rev. Henry Mills of San Jose at the meeting of the Kiwanis club Tuesday. While interesting the tragedies of that pioneer group are always harrowing to hear.

Ben Davison presented the speaker.

Next week the Future Farmers of the Campbell Union High school and their instructor, K. C. Dwelley, will present the program.

Erection of New Dehydrator Units Well Under Way

Erection of steel frame work for the new units of the Campbell Cooperative dehydrator is under way.

Property on the west side of Central avenue, opposite the main plant has had the houses removed and ground prepared for the new tunnels.

Manager G. K. Schrader states that the enlarged plant will handle some 2000 more tons of green prunes than last year, all of which has been signed up by the forty-one new members.

Dessert Bridge Party Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Country Woman's club will hold its "kitchen shower dessert bridge." Dessert will be served at 1:30 in the club rooms of the library building. Tables will be set up for other games for those who do not wish to play cards. A food sale will be held at the close of the afternoon. There will be many lovely door prizes. The purpose of the party is to raise funds to better equip the kitchen which is in connection with the Campbell library.

Mrs. W. R. Morgan is general chairman for the affair.

As reported to date 150 tickets have been sold and some twenty-five tables reserved. The ticket committee and other members are working to achieve the 200 goal. Reservations of 23 tables have been reported to date to Mrs. R. H. Hyde, ticket sale chairman.

Reservations should be made at once with any of the following: Mrs. Ralph Hyde, Mrs. W. R. Morgan, Mrs. B. E. Walton, Mrs. Ira Grim, Mrs. Charles Simonds, Mrs. Lowell Benson, Mrs. Hubert Wagner, Mrs. Sue Boyce, Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke, and Mrs. Ira Abbott.

Mrs. George W. Burrow is practically recovered from a sudden illness last Sunday which had her family seriously concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Evander of San Carlos, accompanied by Miss Mabel Knappen, motored to Yosemite Sunday, returning Tuesday afternoon.

The informal opening of the new shop will be tomorrow (Friday) evening.

With the new services that have been and are being added to Campbell's business district it is unnecessary to go out of town for but few lines of merchandise.

The Footlighters Initiate Members

At the regular meeting of The Footlighters last week, six new members were initiated into the organization. They were Mary and Martha Parr, Evelyn Shumway, Madeleine Byrnes, Milton Herold and Robert Weaver. Mrs. Ellen Lanphear, D. H. Cramer and Mrs. Merle Knappen had charge of the initiation and games which followed. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. J. C. Agostinho.

During the business session, presided over by Archie Keesling, plans were started for a barbecue. The affair will be held at the Fortini ranch Sunday, May 25 for members of The Footlighters and families. Members are asked to bring their own eating utensils.

Wilbur R. Morton Graduates With High Honors

Wilbur Raymond Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herold Morton, East Campbell avenue, was one of the class of 90 who received degrees Saturday in the 90th annual graduation exercises of the University of Santa Clara.

Receiving his degree of Bachelor of Electrical Engineering, cum laude, is very gratifying to himself and the Campbell schools from which he graduated to enter the university.

About June 21 he leaves for Pittsburg, Pa., for a year's course, with pay, at the Westinghouse electrical plant where he will report on July 10.

The trip east will be made by auto in company with Harold Hayes of Los Angeles and Eugene Stephens of Oakland, class mates who graduated from the college of mechanical engineering and who go to the General Electric company in Schenectady, New York.

Alvin Carter Here On Furlough

Alvin Carter, former clerk in the Campbell post office, who was called to army training recently, was home for a three day furlough over the week-end.

He is stationed now at Jolon, southwest of King City, where they have been making ready for the large contingent now on its way from Oregon and Fort Lewis, Washington. Preparations for the camp site have included clearing and road making.

The transfer of these troops requires 3500 trucks and 27 trains.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murdock and children will spend the week-end in Georgetown, the native habitat of the Murdock clan.

LET THE PRESSES ROLL!

In the early days of America, freedom of speech was rigidly considered the primary safeguard of liberty. In that era it was in the Town Hall that freedom was guarded and preserved. But later on, as the United States became a nation of many millions of people, a free press became more vital, for each newspaper became the voice of its community —a voice capable of making itself heard, even in a complex civilization and a country of vast distances.

These two fundamental rights of our land—freedom of speech and a free press—have protected all our other rights; they have shielded us from tyranny in a storm-swept world where tyranny seems on the ascendancy. And whether we be newspaper publishers, or newspaper readers who depend on a free press to keep close tab on public affairs, we all have reason to consider the words uttered a few days ago by Norman Strouse, national advertising executive.

Mr. Strouse, after several months spent in directing the organization set up by the American Newspaper Publishers association to inform newspaper readers of the significance and value of a free press, told a California audience: "The free press in America is the last shield of democracy—the last Town Hall on earth! When the present national emergency developed, American newspapers were the medium through which the people of this nation were awakened and brought out of listless low gear to high speed. Censorship suppression and restraint are the only ways of closing your eyes and ears to what is going on about you. And with a free press you will always have means by which you can live in freedom."

Newspapers are human institutions; sometimes, perhaps, they fall short of the high trust given them. But for the most part, they have kept faith with the people of America — fight for the right as they see it; above all, fighting for the right of every American citizen, whatever his views, to hold those views. And in the present emergency, this newspaper, with other newspapers throughout the land, will do its bit to tend the flame of liberty. As long as the presses roll, our democracy will endure.

FIRESIDE CHAT

For the first time in four months President Roosevelt will address 130 million Americans and the rest of the world in a fireside chat from the White House on the evening of May 27. That will be between 5:30 and 6 o'clock here.

What will he talk about? Rumor is rife and prediction floats on every breeze.

The convoy question is a likely subject, and one hardly to be avoided. America's further part in the declared policy of all-out aid to Britain is a very hot and timely issue. Means of getting the other 15 cylinders of the country's 16 cylinder defense machine moving, surely will be discussed. And undoubtedly the current labor tie-ups of vital defense production will receive presidential attention.

Some commentators are even insisting that the President plans to shock people out of their rocking chairs with a virtual declaration of war.

Despite White House reports that there will be "no world-shaking pronouncements" in the forthcoming address, the world, nevertheless, will be listening in with both ears, for it fully expects every syllable to be a significant one. Meanwhile, until the very moment the President says, "My friends . . . " everybody can indulge in a perfect orgy of speculation on the subject of the coming fireside chat.

BIVOUAC

For the past week California highways have been crowded with men in uniform—the "biggest military migration in Far West history"—heading for the war games at Jolon, Monterey county.

The troops have come by train, by truck by air from as far as Fort Lewis, Washington. They have bivouacked at a dozen different camps on the journey.

Though aroused by curiosity and by pride in the alert, bronzed young men of the United States Army civilians have done their best to keep the roads reasonably clear between the designated hours of 5 a. m. and 2 p. m.—open for the waves of khaki-clad kids learning to play war.

The gigantic undertaking of sending 65,000 men into mock battle at a point hundreds of miles from many of the troops' home bases is a job of military precision, timing and orderliness. Civilians are glad to do their little part in the job, which is mainly to keep out from under foot.

THE MAN FROM MARS

Millions of words have been written already concerning the fantastic flight of Rudolf Hess, the No. 3 Nazi, from his German homeland into the camp of his enemy. And yet it still remains the most astounding news story of the year—a story stranger than fiction; a story which will loom large in the pages of history. Never in the annals of nations has a man so highly placed deserted his cause and his country; never before, in the history of modern warfare, has a man suddenly parachuted down from Mars to surrender his sword in such spectacular and unfathomable fashion.

Berlin tells one story London another—and there are great gaps between them. But Mars, we imagine, is speechless, for here is one of the great warlords of modern times struck down, perhaps by his own conscience. Or maybe he just didn't have the stomach for it. He may be mad, as Hitler insists, or he may have been suddenly shocked into sanity, but whatever the cause, this was a flight from reality—from the revolting reality of man's inhumanity to man.

Even rigid censorship cannot hide the fact that the headlong flight of Hess from Germany has created a great scandal in the Axis-dominated countries. The German people, despite all they may be told by their propaganda ministry, are tremendously disturbed. One who led them has recanted; one who lived by the side of their Fuehrer has deserted him. And whether Hess gives information to Britain of transcending military importance; whether he punctures Hitler's armor by revealing the most closely-guarded secrets of Nazi strategy or just spins preposterous yarns, as fantastic as his own flight to Scotland, the damage has been done. The doctrine of invincibility has been exploded; a leading apostle of Mars has looked on his deeds and recanted!

THE OLD WEST RETURNS

Once more it's that time of year when California opens her album of the past and turns to her heritage from the ealy west. Already the rodeo fever is running high in many counties. This is the season when packed grandstands tensely watch dare-devil riders and skilled ropers perform rare feats of skill with bucking cayuses and mean Brahma bulls. This is the season when dozens of communities prepare, with fiestas, pageants and celebrations, to re-live scenes from that colorful past when the Dons and Padres of Spanish days, when the settlers and red-shirted miners of '49, walked the streets of earlier El Dorado.

California's romantic Yesterday lives again!

Saratoga Has Weekly Paper

The first issue of a new county paper came to our desk last week, the Saratoga Sentinel, published in our neighboring town by owners and editors James and Lillian Little. Publication day is Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Little have had as they say "a lifetime experience of publishing and printing, mostly under the environment of small town newspapers."

We extend greetings to our fellow scribes and good wishes for the success of the "Sentinel."

The California Apricot Growers Union, Inc., will hold campaign for membership meeting tonight at Fremont Union High school and tomorrow night at Berryessa school. Following these later, meetings will be conducted at Evergreen, Campbell and Encinal schools. Growers are invited to hand in sealed statements of what they consider a fair price for canning apricots, when they attend their local rally.

New Ice Follies Opens Saturday

Sparkling with all-new entertainment — new routines, new ensembles, new music and new production — the famed Ice Follies will return to San Francisco for a limited engagement at Winterland beginning next Wednesday, May 28, it was announced today.

The same great cast of international skating stars will again be seen in the dazzling ice show and the same beauties who delighted some 750,000 central Californians in 1939-40 will do their ice ballet numbers.

Return of the Ice Follies to San Francisco will climax an eastern tour in which all box office records were shattered. Executives of the show declared that the "SRO" signs were out virtually every night in New York, Boston, Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and other cities.

A big hit in the east were Murray and Sheldon Galbraith, San Francisco boys who were Pacific coast skating champions when they joined the Follies at Winterland last season.

Favorite stars due back with the Ice Follies include Evelyn Chandler and Bruce Mapes, Bess Ehrhardt and Roy Shipstad, Frick and Frack, Shipstad and Johnson, Ruby and Bobby Maxson, Idi Papez and Karl Zwack, Osborne Colson and Fran Claudet.

Tickets for all performances are now on sale at Winterland, Post and Steiner streets; and at Sherman Clay company box offices in San Francisco and Oakland.

OUR STATE GOVERNMENT
by GEORGE R. REILLY
STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

(In a new series of articles on "Our State Government," Commissioner George R. Reilly, our member of the State Board of Equalization, plans a streamlined analysis of the most important departments of state government, and their functions. The series when complete will give a comprehensive and informative picture to our readers as to how state government in California works.)

The State Department of Finance is administered by a director of finance named by the Governor, who is assisted by the State Board of Control. The Board of Control must include the director of finance and the state controller as ex officio members. The third member is named by and serves at the pleasure of the Governor. The functions of this board have to do with the presentation and audit of all claims against the state, and to act as a court for the consideration of claims in equity against the state. Claims represent financial obligations against state government.

In the finance department all financial charges of any kind against the government are audited and approved or disapproved. The department consists of six divisions: budgets and accounts, exhibits, reclamation finance, state lands, state planning, and service and supply, which includes the bureas of purchases, printing and buildings and grounds. The present finance director is George Killion.

The Franchise Tax Commissioner of California is charged with the administration of bank and corporation franchise taxes, personal income tax, corporation income tax and business trust. The three have to do with the imposition and collecting of taxes on banks and corporations, and individuals paying income tax, now one of the state's major sources of revenue. Charles J. McColgan is the franchise tax commissioner and he is named by the Governor.

Prominent in California's activities is the Department of Public Works which has to do with the various public works inaugurated by the state including the division of highways, land settlement, motor vehicles, ports, water resources and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge. The most important of these undoubtedly is the construction of highways and bridges out of funds provided by the motor vehicle fuel tax. California ranks foremost in the nation for its public works activities especially those concerning highways. The director of the department is Frank W. Clark.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL

The booklet "Things Worth Knowing About Your School" was compiled for Public Schools Week, and the following articles are taken from it. —Editor.

GROWTH

Campbell Union High school is one of the fastest growing schools in the country. This has been brought about partly by the attraction of our new buildings, and partly due to the fact that San Jose is growing out this way and many new homes are being built in the district. A short time ago a superficial survey made in 746 housesre, con the district showed that at least 746 houses had been built here in the past three years. The tax assessor said he believed the estimate was at least 20 % low.

The following chart illustrates the rapid growth in enrollment the past five years.

Year	Enrollment
1936-1937	506
1937-1938	557
1938-1939	628
1939-1940	731
1940-1941 to date	861

The increased enrollment has made it possible to enrich the program by the addition of several new subjects and also to reorganize the subject matter in several other subject fields in order to make them more valuable to the students.

Mrs. Sarah A. Franklin, mother of Mrs. Alice Waltrip passed away just before noon today at the home of her daughter on Esther avenue.

Take care of these servants when you plan your Home

Count up the many electrical devices you use in your home. Each year you have added one or more because modern living demands their handy, economical service. Then you begin to discover "traffic jams" develop in the wiring system in your house. It is a common condition in thousands of homes. These "traffic jams" at convenience outlets choke down the full flow of electric power so that appliances work slower due to the lower voltage.

Make sure the new home you plan to build or buy has wiring that will be adequate to take care of your electric servants and permit them to operate at full voltage and greatest economy.

Remember this—the difference between "skimpy" or "cheap" wiring and certified adequate wiring in the average home is very little.
